Secretary Murray Provides Financial Field Guide to Wyoming National Guard

CHEYENNE, WY - This week Wyoming Secretary of State Ed Murray met with the First Sergeants Council of the 153rd Airlift Wing, Wyoming Air National Guard, to deliver 1,200 copies of "The Financial Field Manual: A Personal Finance Guide for Military Families."

"As Wyoming's Secretary of State - and as a citizen of this great land of freedom - I am grateful for the Wyoming National Guard's dedicated and unfailing service to our Nation and State. I know that members of the Wyoming National Guard face unique challenges and pressures. To arm them with knowledge about a number of financial topics, my staff and I are honored to provide each airmen and soldier with a Financial Field Manual," said Secretary of State Ed Murray.

This manual is a new resource from the Wyoming Secretary of State's Office to provide military personnel and their families with valuable information about the new military retirement system, benefit changes, steps to take before and after deployment, and how to guard against scams that target service members.

A digital copy of "The Financial Field Manual: A Personal Finance Guide for Military Families" is available on the Secretary of State's website at: http://soswy.state.wy.us/Investing/Docs/Field_Manual_2016.pdf.
